Baltic State to Defend Herself Against Invasion by Polish Troops

HEAD OF RUSSIAN PEACE DELEGATION QUILTS POST

Resigns When Soviet Agrees to Further Parley With Poles

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Lithuania will defend herself against invasion by Polish troops, and will prevent any further violations of her territory, says a Kovno dispatch.

A statement issued by the Lithuanian foreign minister declares: "The Lithuanian government has issued instructions for military occupation of Lithuanian territory, after having received information from the Lithuanian army that Lithuanian officials by expressing friendly and peaceful intentions."

"Hostilities can be avoided only if the Poles withdraw," the foreign minister is quoted. "They must await the fixing of a temporary line of demarcation which must be decided upon in agreement with the Lithuanian government."

The note says the Poles attacked Lithuanian troops while boundary negotiations were progressing.

Deny Report of Fighting

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Reports that fighting has occurred between Polish and Lithuanian troops near Augustow are denied in a telegram from Warsaw, says the London Times.

It is stated Lithuanian troops are withdrawing without fighting against the Poles.

Poles Enter Suwalki

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—Polish troops have entered Suwalki and have been given an enthusiastic welcome, according to an official statement.

General Budenny, the Russian bolshevik commander, who was defeated by the Poles in Galicia, is rapidly retreating, it is said.

Brilliant service by aviators, among whom are many Americans, is especially mentioned in the statement.

Reds at Brest-Litovsk

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Russian bolshevik forces have occupied many villages north of Brest-Litovsk, according to an official bolshevik statement. Further south, bolshevik forces have advanced up to Brest-Litovsk, the statement says.

Further south, the bolsheviks occupied Zamosc, southeast of Lublin, on August 29, and in the Lublinski region are said to be holding up attacks by the Poles, who, it is admitted, have "started to advance" about Tarnobrzeg, eastern Galicia, the bolshevik have found Polish troops back to the right bank of the Dnieper river, the statement says.

Fighting is proceeding with alternating success and with some severity in the Ukrainian sector.

Russ Delegate Resigns

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—By The Associated Press.—M. Danilovsky has resigned as head of the Russian delegation to negotiate an armistice program and a peace treaty with Poland and has been replaced by Adolph Abramovitch Joffe, former Soviet ambassador to Germany and chairman of the Russian peace delegation at Brest-Litovsk, according to Moscow advices.

M. Danilovsky resigned because the Soviet government agreed to carry on further negotiations with Poland at Riga. The personnel of the new Soviet delegation is not known.

Prince Sapieha, Polish foreign minister, received a wireless from George Tchitcherine, bolshevik minister of foreign affairs, stating that the essential condition as to the Riga conference was a guarantee of the immunity of the Russian and Ukrainian delegates, the right to free and uninterrupted communication. Upon receiving such guarantee, M. Tchitcherine said the Soviet delegation will leave for Riga with full power to agree to an armistice preliminary to peace and to negotiate a final peace treaty.

Crew of Submarine Rescued After Two Days' Imprisonment Beneath the Ocean

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 3.—Radio messages flashed from the army transport, General Goethals, to the Philadelphia navy yard via Cape May, told of the rescue early today of the officers and crew of the submarine S-5 after they had spent nearly two days locked in the disabled vessel beneath the Atlantic ocean 55 miles south of Cape Henlopen. It was after 3 o'clock this morning when Lieutenant Commander C. M. Cook, the last of the crew of thirty, was taken aboard the steamer Alanthus. Nine hours had elapsed since the plight of the undersea boat had been made public through a wireless call picked up by an amateur operator in Farmington, Conn.

BUOYS BRING HELP

It was a small buoy, a development of the world war, together with the vigilant eye of a lookout on the bridge of the transport General Goethals, that gave the thirty men on the submerged submarine their chance for life. This small buoy, with a bell and buzzer device that can be operated when the boat is submerged, is part of the equipment of later type submarines. It was cast loose when the S-5 went down. The lookout on the General Goethals saw it, being attracted by its bell.

A small boat was lowered to investigate. When the buoy was reached the boat's officer cut into the connection and quickly there came this message:

AIR SUPPLY SHORT

"The submarine S-5 has been submerged thirty-five hours. Air is running short. Machinery is damaged. Send for help."

This plea was sent broadcast by wireless of the General Goethals. Among those who responded was the steamer Alanthus, which with the army transport stood by the submerged vessel and managed to attach grappling hooks to its stern. Holding the submarine in a vertical position, a hole was bored through her plates and air pumped through to the suffering crew.

The call for help had been picked up by the navy wireless stations and by command of Secretary Daniels destroyers were rushed from Philadelphia, Newport News and New York.

Before these vessels had had time to reach the scene; however, word was flashed that all the crew had been taken aboard the steamer Alanthus.

NO ONE HURT

The wireless merely told that all were safe aboard the Alanthus. None had been injured although all had suffered for lack of air. It was 7 o'clock when the first man was taken off the submarine and more than two hours later before Lieutenant Commander Cook left his vessel.

The submarine is being towed to port by the steamer Alanthus. A message today from the Alanthus said that the steamer, accompanied by five others, was proceeding toward the Delaware capes with the S-5 in tow.

PROMISE TO PROBE RECORDS OF EVERY POLITICAL GROUP

Series of Political Scandals Expected in Senate Expenditures Inquiry

MEN CITED BY COX MANAGER ARE SUMMONED TO APPEAR

Committee to Resume Sessions Next Tuesday

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 3.—Subpoenas for a dozen or more witnesses were sent today by the senate committee investigating campaign contributions, while the committee took a recess until next Tuesday. Many of those summoned, it was understood, were cited to the committee by E. H. Moore of Youngstown, Ohio, pre-convention manager of Governor Cox.

"I have the names of men who can give absolute proof that before the public conscience was aroused the heads of this money-getting organization publicly boasted that the Blair plan would raise $16,000,000," Mr. Moore declared in a statement. One of the subpoenas issued was for Harry N. Blair, assistant to Treasurer Fred W. Upham of the republican national committee. Mr. Moore declared Blair was the "father of the city quota plan" which was referred to by Governor Cox in his Pittsburgh speech.

After the conference with Mr. Moore, the committee members declared they would search into the records of every political group, and that they expected to "uncover a series of political scandals."

CANDIDATES REPLY TO QUESTIONNAIRE OF U. S. ENGINEERS

Cox Answers Yes to Questions of Association; Harding Presents Views More Fully

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The American Association of Engineers today made public letters from Governor Cox and Senator Harding in answer to a questionnaire.

Governor Cox wrote that "my reply to every one of the questions you ask is unequivocally 'yes,'" while Senator Harding outlined his views more fully.

Among the questions asked were whether the presidential nominees favor a national department of public works for the purpose of reducing and co-ordinating many bureaus and commissions; the appointment of an engineer as a member of the interstate commerce commission; a progressive program of conservation and development of public resources; the budget system of appropriations; and the reclamation of waste lands with a special financial system to aid the settler.

In reply Harding said, "I do not care to enter into a categorical reply to questionnaires, no matter how friendly they may be and no matter how reputable the source from which they come. My theory of a campaign is that a man's candidacy ought to be based on the formal and public utterances."

"You may say, however, in a general way," he continued, "that I think well of the appointment of an engineer on the interstate commerce commission and I have always spoken heartily in favor of a progressive and constructive policy of conservation. I am sure you know that I favor the budget system and a very forward policy relating to reclamation and irrigation."

MINNESOTA FARMER HAS AUTO STOLEN IN CITY YESTERDAY

Auto Thief Believed to Have Left City in Direction of Caledonia

Nearly Collides with Car on the Road West of Here

Marshal of Houston and Other Officials Aiding Police

Thomas Tenneyson, farmer near Houston, Minnesota, was victimized by auto thieves in the city yesterday, having parted with a perfectly good 1919 Buick automobile after parking it near Front and Main streets shortly after ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Tenneyson reported to the police that he had seen his car between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, but upon returning at three o'clock to drive home, found the machine missing.

That a car answering the description of the one stolen from Mr. Tenneyson was driven in the direction of Caledonia is almost certain according to the police, they having received the report that a driver returning to this city met the car, alleged to be the one stolen from here, on the Caledonia road. The report indicated that the driver of the car was in a rush, and that the meeting of the two cars almost resulted in an accident. The local police communicated with the marshal at Houston, and covered the surrounding towns with messages regarding the theft in an effort to locate the party, but no traces have been found as yet.

AMERICAN LEGION DECLARES LENROOT FOUGHT FOR BONUS

Answers "Unjust and Dishonest Attack" Issued by Non-Partisan League Headquarters

REFUTES STATEMENT THAT THE BONUS BILL IS DEAD

Declares Men Count on Lenroot to Put it Through Senate

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—R. M. Gibson, department adjutant of the American legion in Wisconsin, has sent to all the legion members in the state an official bulletin of the organization setting forth the able assistance which Senator J. L. Lenroot gave the legion representatives in pressing the matter of a federal bonus.

The bulletin specifically denounces as untrue a "goldfish document" sent out from 115 West Main street, Madison, campaign headquarters of the combined Nonpartisan league candidates, and signed by J. H. Johnston as secretary of the Service Men's Progressive Association.

On National Committee

Mr. Gibson is a member of the national committee of the American legion, Franklin D'Olier, to see the soldiers' bonus bill through congress, and is a member of the legion's legislative committee. Part of his duties are "to see right any attacks upon men in public life who are for us on bonus legislation," and he declares that pursuant to this official duty he feels that he must reply to the unjust and dishonest attack on Senator Lenroot.

"Inasmuch as the letter is an attack upon Senator Lenroot and is full of untruths and half-truths, and as Mr. Thompson seems to be aligning himself with elements of unpatriotic citizens who are in favor of a world combination to destroy our existing democracy of the United States and substitute a system of soviet like that in Russia, I take the opportunity of giving the facts to all American legion and ex-service men," the official bulletin says.

Mr. Gibson sets forth details of Senator Lenroot's efforts in behalf of the service men, and particularly of the senator's earnest fight in getting a hearing for the legion men at the republican national convention.

Pledged to the Bill

"Senator Lenroot has been one of the strongest backers of our soldiers' bonus law in Washington ever since it has been up for passage, and has not only given verbal assurance to that effect, but his pledged word was given me in a letter which went out of these headquarters in a bulletin under date of June 8, bulletin No. 10, the circular of the department adjutant declares."

The official bulletin refers to a statement in the circular opposing Senator Lenroot, in which it is represented that Senator Lenroot's opponent, has declared that the soldiers' bonus bill died in a pigeon hole in the senate.

To Pass in December

"This is a deliberate misstatement of the facts," says Department Adjutant Gibson, "for the bill is alive and very much alive, and will be alive until March 4, 1921, and we are counting on Senator Lenroot as one of the bill's best friends to help put it through the senate when it convenes again next December, and from all indications and reports it will be passed during that session."

Assuming that Mr. Thompson was mistaken when he said "the bill died in a pigeon hole," in any case he is unfit to be a United States senator, for if he did not know the bill was alive until March 4, 1920, he has not knowledge of important public affairs, and if he did know it, he deliberately falsified in order to deceive the legion and ex-service men to vote for him."

MELTING POT IN RIOT WHEN SUGAR BOWLS SHOW UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A "sugar bowl" riot started among the 1,750 immigrants in the Ellis Island dining room yesterday when, for the first time since the war, sugar, substituted for molasses to sweeten coffee, was put on the tables. Several aliens were removed to hospitals, one with three fractured ribs.

Some of the hundreds had not seen sugar since the first months of the war. They immediately began to delve with their fingers into the sweet stuff.

General attacks were launched at a few who tried to pocket the bowls. Before the riot ended all guards, waiters and kitchen employees had to be sent to the scene.

ESCH'S RECORD IS LAUDED BY SYD ANDERSON

La Crosse Man is Best Friend Railroadmen Have in Congress Says Lanesboro Congressman

ESCH TELLS OF GREAT ACTS HE FATHERED AND WORKED FOR

Masterful Speech Delivered Before Big Crowd in Riverside Park

"If the railroad workers have a friend in congress, it is John J. Esch. As I know his integrity, his standing in congress, his honesty, the affection in which he is held by his brother members in the house, and his legislative achievements, I am here to assert that to fail to return John J. Esch to congress would be a distinct loss to the Seventh district and the country."—Representative Sydney Anderson.

"In enacting the railroad law, we were actuated by sincere desires to do that which was in favor of the masses of the people and not in favor of any special interests. I wish my opponents and critics could have been in our committee room and seen the bitter objections which the railroad officials and owners registered to this bill. They could not then say I was a 'tool of Wall street.'"—Representative John J. Esch.

Congressman John J. Esch, candidate for renomination in the republican primaries next Tuesday, who is opposed by J. D. Beck of Viroqua, Nonpartisan League candidate, delivered a masterful defense of the modified Esch-Cummins railroad law and his entire record in congress, in a speech at Riverside park last night.

At the same time Representative Sydney Anderson, progressive republican, who had come over from his home district in Minnesota to aid in the campaign of his friend and co-worker, endorsed in impressive and enthusiastic style the splendid record made by Mr. Esch, and informed citizens of La Crosse that their fellow townsman was one of the most influential members of congress as well as one of the most highly respected and beloved men at Washington.

Large Crowd Attends

The crowd in Riverside park last night was the largest gathered at an outdoor political meeting here this year. Mr. Esch and Mr. Anderson held the close attention of the crowd for over two hours, and frequent outbursts of applause marked the meeting. A band concert of one hour preceded the talks. C. H. Schweizer was chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers, dwelling eloquently upon the fine records both men have made in congress.

Has Place of Influence

"Up to this time," Mr. Schweizer said, "the voice of calamity has never been raised against John J. Esch. His integrity has never been questioned, and his ability is recognized. He holds the chairmanship of the most powerful committee in congress."

Tumultuous applause greeted Mr. Esch when he rose to speak.

Referring to the fact that his opponent for office is endeavoring to obtain the farmer votes by declaring that the farmers need a successful farmer to represent them in congress, Mr. Esch said that Mr. Beck could hardly have been a successful farmer when he has spent sixteen years in office at Madison.

The speaker said he began his efforts for the farmer way back in 1903 when the arid land act was up for consideration, and had since steadfastly and earnestly supported many important measures drafted for the benefit of the agriculturist. Mr. Esch cited various important measures he had worked for, including the good roads, parcel post, and Lever vocational acts and the bill repealing the daylight saving act.

Works for Railroadmen

For the benefit of railroad men of La Crosse, Mr. Esch reviewed his record in behalf of workers, citing important measures which he fathered.

"I became interested in safety appliances for railroads when my brother, who was an express messenger, lost his life as a result of a railroad accident, and for years I gave this subject earnest study," said the speaker.

"I introduced the sixteen-hour bill, which became a law. Under this act, an engineer can no longer sit in his cab for 22 and 24 hours at a stretch. Every railroad worker under this law, must have at least eight hours of rest in every 24 hours."

"I introduced the bill standardizing railroad equipment, and all cars are now built according to standards approved by the interstate commerce commission. No longer does a brake machine into maeling trim."

Family of Cork Mayor Who Visited Him Today Say That End is Not Far off

SINN FEIN MINISTER IS ORDERED TO LEAVE PARIS

Irish "Ambassador" Warned to Leave Within 24 Hours

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who is in a critical condition in Brixton prison as a result of his hunger strike, which began August 12, was reported this morning by his brother, Sean MacSwiney, as showing signs of sinking rapidly and to be very much weaker.

At the lord mayor's request, members of his family visited him this morning and later they expressed fear that the end was not far away. Those who went to his cell included MacSwiney's wife, his brother, Sean, and his sisters, Annie and Mary.

Matier Dominick, private chaplain to MacSwiney, celebrated a special mass in the prison this morning.

Miss Annie MacSwiney said the mayor's cheeks and eyes were sunken and that he spoke in a whisper. As to his condition, she added: "Some changes from hour to hour. Sometimes one would think he would die in a few hours and then he rallies. The prison doctor cannot decide how long he will last."

A report made on Mayor MacSwiney's condition shortly after noon said he was rapidly approaching unconsciousness. He was too weak to carry on a conversation, it was said.

MORGAN THREATENS TO LICK MAN WHO DOUBTED VERACITY

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 3.—"You take off your glasses and come with me to a quiet room and I will give you the damndest licking you ever got," William J. Morgan, candidate for attorney general on the republican ticket told A. E. Bowen, a North Dakota Nonpartisan league here last night following a campaign talk in front of the City hall.

Bowen, who is almost a head taller than Morgan, did not accept the challenge, but walked away, followed by cries of "this is Wisconsin not North Dakota" and "go back to Townley."

"I would not believe you under oath," Bowen is alleged to have told Morgan and the challenge followed.

The brief controversy occurred as the candidate was concluding a speech in which he had assailed the Nonpartisan league program and the Blue state.

ZAMORA THREATENS DEATH OF CAPTIVES RANSOM DEMANDED

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 3.—Pedro Zamora, the Jalisco bandit, has threatened to execute W. A. (Sanchez) Gardner, an American citizen and Bertie C. The government is exerting every effort to secure the release of the two men without paying ransom. Federal troops are said to be close behind Zamora, who is reported to have sought refuge near the El Panal mountains.

ZONA GALE URGES WOMEN TO SUPPORT PROGRESSIVE TICKET

Task of Women is to Conserve Human Life and Happiness Declares Wisconsin Writer

MADISON, Wis.—An urgent appeal to the women voters of this state to support the progressive republican candidates was made today by Miss Zona Gale of Portage.

"If I were asked to characterize progressive policies in one sentence," said Miss Gale, "I would say that they are policies socialized. Or that they regard human life and its right to grow as more important than property rights. The history of these policies in Wisconsin is a history of the fight against special privilege which sought advantage for the few at the expense of the many. This means that an ethical principle has been made into a political faith.

"Broadly speaking, these are principles and the faith of most women, outside parties. Before property was ever heard of, they knew the value of human life and happiness, and their task has been to conserve these. Women's votes, then logically would go to support the policies which actually stand for the best interests of the many and not for the privileged few.

"But wishing to cast their first vote for progressive policies, women are confronted by too many progressive candidates. And these cannot all be elected—the same old Wisconsin dilemma. Therefore the greatest service to the progressive cause in the state can be performed this year by the new women voters. At this moment the need of voters, who will unite is literally greater than the need of voters who will believe. Already enough voters believe in progressive ideals to carry the state. Will enough unite? The Wisconsin progressive women can, if they will, make this union possible. Will they help—or will they scatter and lose their historic initial vote, disfranchise themselves by failing to follow their logical leadership?"

REMOVE VANITY

REMOVE far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me: lest I be full and deny Thee and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.—Proverbs 28: 9.

WHAT MAKES A PROGRESSIVE?

SENATOR LENROOT is well befriended. It is no small distinction for a man in public life that such men as Herbert Hoover, Senator Capper and Senator Kenyon should have offered their services in his campaign for renomination. Were these gentlemen party hacks, accustomed to the conventional espousal of the causes of their co-workers in republicanism as part of their regular campaign routine, it would be of less significance. But they are of the new order of public service in this country, which places the interest of the nation above partisan considerations. They exhibit no timidity in the presence of the party bosses, and are in the habit of speaking their minds freely and positively even on those occasions when they and their party organizations are not of the same opinion. They support no man whom they do not approve. They are, in a word, progressives. They are all veterans of the progressive movement, and the fact that they are here is sufficient evidence that they have found Senator Lenroot to be a staunch ally in the cause.

Outside of Wisconsin these men are known as types of true progressive republicanism. Outside of Wisconsin, the title of progressive republican is not a patent of nobility good only when autographed by Senator La Follette. It is a distinction not to be bestowed by the laying on of hands, but to be won by certain well-defined attitudes toward public questions demonstrated by consistent service. One must, for instance, set humanity above property. One must be a determined foe of privilege in all its varied guises and efforts to seek unfair advantage for the exploitation of the public. One must refuse the dictates of the bosses and be a "good party man" only when the party is right. If a republican in public life holds to these tenets he is, outside of Wisconsin, a progressive republican in his own right.

Whether this much is also sufficient to establish a title to progressiveism in Wisconsin is one of the matters which will be at issue in the primary next Tuesday. Not least of the questions to be decided is whether progressiveism is to be a proprietary label, the personal perquisite of Senator La Follette, or a distinction to be won by any citizen who accepts the well understood principles of political liberalism even if he ventures to refuse the commands of the senior senator.

A RECORD AND A BLANK

IN making their choice between Orrin Fletcher and William F. Miller voters of the second assembly district have to choose between a man whose record is a creditable one of public service of long standing in this county, and a man of whose attitude toward public affairs there is no record; whose only claim to office is the endorsement of the non-partisan league combination.

The voters must make a choice between a man who has had the training and experience of two sessions of the legislature, in addition to valuable experience on the county board, and a man who has had no public experience whatever.

The voters must choose between a man who has been consistently a progressive republican, and a man who has been as consistently a democrat—whose only claim to republicanism is that the non-partisan league combination to which he has given his allegiance had selected the republican primary as the most expedient gate to power.

Orrin Fletcher supported the Wisconsin soldier bonus bill—not only in the legislature but actively in the county when the referendum campaign was on. He worked diligently with the wives, mothers and sisters of service men who made the fight for the referendum in this county and carried it through to an overwhelming victory. Where Mr. Miller stood on that matter we do not know. But soldiers and the mothers of soldiers will not fail to realize the significance of the fact that Fletcher had his coat off for their measure, and his opponent was on the sidelines.

It is with this as with the other matters upon which the men and women of the Second district must decide their choice, all the way down the line. Fletcher's record is an open book, a record of clean, loyal and unselfish public service. His opponent is an unknown quantity.

"AT LEAST IN FORM"

SENATOR HARDING'S recent speech somewhat specifically outlines the proposed substitute for the league of nations. One need not go outside this text in quest of proof that what Mr. Root did in Europe was to find ways and means of converting the league from a democratic to a republican political asset without seriously crippling the machinery by which it must function.

Senator Harding proposes to "put teeth in to it."

In the following paragraph he proposes to "appropriate" from the "failed league of Versailles" such "machinery as the tribunal can use properly and advantageously", and "to combine all that is good" in the league with the proposed substitute.

"What is good in the league" will be determined largely, from the republican standpoint, by men like Root, Taft and Hughes, and provided it shall save their faces as against criticism of their political conduct, it will have the support of the Lodge group of senators.

That such an arrangement has been made by Mr. Root is broadly suggested by Senator Harding's reference to Viscount Grey's observation that, "The Americans should be trusted with the task of drafting a reconstruction scheme", and to Lloyd George's statement that America's participation, which he deemed "essential", might "involve some changes, at least in form".

TENNESSEE RATIFICATION

THERE may be considerable litigation over the validity of Tennessee's ratification of the suffrage amendment, but the outcome is not in doubt. Ratification was adopted by an undisputed majority. Opponents moved a reconsideration, and then left the state to prevent the assembling of a quorum. In their absence the reconsideration was defeated by less than a quorum, which act, if illegal, merely leaves the original adoption of the resolution standing. Injunctions of doubtful validity were imposed, and dissolved by the higher court upon a proper writ. The secretary of state then issued the proclamation declaring the amendment duly adopted as part of the American constitution. Entering the legislature when there were enough suffrage members present to make up a quorum, and enough absent to give the anti-control, the opposition has now voted reconsideration, although the presence of the full membership would have prevented this. Probably the facts and the specific law touching the matter are with the suffragists, but there also applies the legal maxim that "he who comes into court must come with clean hands". The opponents of suffrage in the Tennessee legislature have dirty hands.

There's a lot of unreality in reel life.

THE TREK BACK
FRANCIS BLOTT, WHEELER
By noon, fourteen trucks and eleven automobiles were on their way from the Camp to Juvenon. A corporal's guard had waited until the very last to make a final survey of the Camp, to see that nothing had been left behind, that all doors and windows had been fastened, that water had been disconnected so that winter frosts should not make any havoc, and to make all things ship-shape and Bristol fashion. The Camp ground looked bleak and deserted, with all the tents gone, and the stone ovens had a queer look with the gaping holes for stove-pipes.

The Camp Guard, who had done some wonderful service, was one of the few things that still looked flourishing, for Gardner John had continued to plant almost to the very end of the camping, saying that the price of a truck and a couple of laborers for a day to gather in the produce which would still grow would leave a considerable margin.

Martha, the Camp Steward, was equally proud, for the kitchen detachment, under her care, had not only made all the jams and jellies needed for the Camp, but over six hundred jars of the preserves were packed for sale in the city—or rather to the parents of the campers, if they wished to buy them at the market price.

Lars, the Camp Engineer, was the last to leave, even as he had been the first to come, and when the last automobile left the Camp containing Director Pierre, Camp Engineer Lars, Camp Gardener John, with Transportation expert Jack at wheel, Pierre turned to Lars and said:

"Every one of the Council has done well, but I think you'll all have to admit, Lars, that the engineering end was the finest ever seen!"

How I Got into Big Baseball

ZACK D. WHEAT
BROOKLYN, NATIONAL LEAGUE
"I started on the corner lot," writes Jack D. Wheat of Brooklyn, "just as many another youngster does. I played amateur and semi-professional baseball and after a few years of that I signed up with a minor league. Eventually, step by step, I worked my way into the Big Leagues."

Wheat's story is another one of a big reputation built up slowly and solidly by sticking to business year after year.

"When any boy asks me how I got into big baseball, I tell him by work. But I was able to make my work count because I really love the game just as every player must do to make a real success. It is the same in baseball as in any line of business—you have to like it and enjoy it thoroughly before you will be able to get along very far."

"It is a clean, healthful sport. I am proud of it."

A LETTER TO ESCH

Editor, Tribune and Leader-Press.
Dear Sir: Mr. Esch, by various devices and artifices is attempting to convince the soldier that he is their firm friend. I am a veteran of the recent World War and I have recently expressed my opinion on bonus bills and the distribution of war trophies.

For the benefit of other soldiers who served with me I have addressed an open letter to Congressman Esch which I request you to publish.

Let it be known that I have a record of two years and ten months spent in the trenches of Europe, and today carry the scars of German mustard gas.

Yours Truly,
Sgt. E. W. Lyons.

La Crosse, Wisconsin,
September 1, 1920.

Hon. John J. Esch,
Congressman from the Seventh District,
La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of a copy of the letter you are sending to all of the veterans of the war with Germany in your Congressional District. In your campaign for reelection to Congress, you inform me that you are in favor of a new bonus bill, which provides for the distribution of German war trophies, consisting of machine guns and lesser equipment. You assure me, as one of your constituents that you "have to be able to secure enough of these trophies to supply each city or village in our district which has a camp or post of war veterans."

You ask me to advise you by December sixth, when Congress reconvenes, as to my wishes in the matter, and I take this early opportunity to do so.

The soldiers of your district, Mr. Esch, like your other constituents, are not much interested in "trophies" of the late war. Several million American boys saw all they wanted to see of German machine guns in France.

What the American soldier is interested in, at the present time, is the high cost of living.

Several thousand of your constituents who volunteered or were called into service under the draft law, looked to you, as their Congressman, to support laws

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.

preventing unscrupulous men from profiting in the necessities of life. These men returned to civilian life in November 1918, to find that the cost of clothing, shoes, food and other necessities had advanced from 50 to 150 per cent.

The soldiers are particularly interested in the fact that you are the same Mr. Esch who wrote the Esch-Cummins Railroad Bill. This law guaranteed the Wall Street Owners of the railroad a profit of six per cent on all their watered stock. I am informed that the Chicago Tribune of August 4th estimates the 35 per cent rate increase of the Interstate Commerce Commission to make, will cost every American family $1 a day in increased living costs, adding $36 a year to the cost of living.

I am informed that the price of coal has just been advanced $2.25 a ton, because of the freight increase under the Esch-Cummins law, so that families having ten tons of coal in your district during the coming winter will be taxed $22.50 for your vote on this measure, on the coal item alone.

In view of these conditions, you cannot ask the soldiers of your district, who share these burdens with all other citizens, to be diverted or satisfied by the awarding of German "trophies."

I am aware that Republican candidates for Congress blame President Wilson for failure to check profiteering. Just as President Wilson blames the Republican Congress. But I note that you were able to cooperate with President Wilson in passing the law in passing the Esch-Cummins Railroad Law, which you wrote and the law which you signed. You are unable to understand why you should not also cooperate with any honest effort made to prevent the profiteers from robbing the public.

You mention in your letter the fact that you supported a "bonus bill" for soldiers and make this the basis of an appeal for soldier votes.

Service men seek no bounty from the government. They would favor a bill giving them fair compensation based on the actual difference in their wages in civilian pursuits and their pay in the service. This would be a "compensation" not a "bonus."

On looking into the Congressional record for May 29th, 1920, I find that Congressman Henry T. Rainey, a member of the committee which reported the bonus bill for which you voted, said of it: "This is a gold brick—a gold brick which will be passed upon in the elections which are about to ensue. You know the Senate is not going to pass this bill. You know this is not going to become a law."

Mr. Rainey also pointed out that the bonus as you contend, actually gave bonus as you contend, actually gave 55 cents a day to soldiers who served two years and six months, 15 cents a day to the 2,000,000 men who served less than 210 days, and 7 cents a day for the 500,000 men who served for a shorter period. For support of this bill, you ask the soldiers to support you for re-election in the primaries September 7th, against your opponent Joseph D. Beck, who is specifically pledged to secure fair compensation, not in the nature of a bonus, but equalizing civilian and service pay, for the soldiers, sailors and marines.

Even if you secure the passage of a generous "bonus" bill, the soldiers would gain nothing, because the increased cost of living, under the Esch-

Cummins Law is eating up $1 per day of every family's money.

The people of your district desire neither "trophies" nor "bonuses." The soldiers will join on September seventh with your other constituents to repeal the Esch-Cummins Law by retiring from Congress, the men who voted for it, after living costs had already been enormously increased thru the greed of the profiteers, and the betrayal of trust by those who were elected to serve the public interest.

Very truly yours,
Sgt. E. W. Lyons,

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations, of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations, Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

HARDING SUBSTITUTE FOR LEAGUE SCORED BY CANDIDATE COX

Hague Tribunal Proved Itself a Failure in 1914 Says Democratic Leader

GOVERNOR TO TAKE HIS FIGHT TO THE PEOPLE

"Going to Thousands of Front Porches", He Tells Reporters

EN ROUTE WITH GOVERNOR COX, Sept. 3.—The western "swing" of Governor Cox was opened early today with a before-breakfast rear platform address to a railroad station crowd at Toledo, while the democratic candidate was en route to Alleghen.

"I'm starting for the coast," said Governor Cox to his surprise audience.

"We're in the fight to win. We will win because our cause deserves to win."

The League of Nations was featured by the governor at Toledo.

Scores Harding Plan

In urging the League of Nations at Toledo, Governor Cox referred to the present disagreement over German indemnities.

"The voice of America," he said, "must fix it. They say that we should substitute for the league the old Hague tribunal. That institution closed up before the war. I imagine there are bats in its belfry and spiders webs everywhere. It was a distinct failure, having failed to prevent war in 1914. The opposition candidate says he will go back and open this old institution and try to keep house there."

Referring to the Harding front porch campaign, Governor Cox said that on his trip he was "going to see thousands of front porches from coast to coast in the belief that the front porch of the people is the seat of American sovereignty."

Lansing Welcomes Cox
LANSING, Mich., Sept. 3.—Michigan democrats gathered here today to greet Governor James M. Cox, opening a month's campaign tour, planned to take him through twenty-two central and western states.

On route to the Michigan capital, the program called for several rear platform addresses and a half-hour speech at Jackson.

A luncheon with Lansing Rotarians was scheduled for 1 p. m., followed by an address before the Michigan State Good Roads' association. A second speech was to be made in the afternoon, from the state capital steps. This evening Governor Cox's program calls for addresses at Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

BRING PRODUCER AND CONSUMER TOGETHER ADVISE OF HARDING

Urges Co-Operative Selling of Farm Products as Means of Cutting Living Costs

ADVOCATES EXTENSION OF FARM LOAN PRINCIPLE

Situation Calls for Farmers' Participation in Government

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Co-operative farmers' associations for distribution of farm products were advocated by Senator Harding today as a necessity if food prices are to be reduced.

Speaking to a committee of the national board of farm organizations, the nominee declared he abhorred class organization as such, but knew that unless the producers and consumers were brought closer together by organized effort, "organized profiteering will squeeze in somewhere between."

"With your assent," Senator Harding said, "I will not welcome you as representatives of farmers' organizations and I shall make no appeal which may be labeled an appeal in behalf of farmers. Permit me, therefore, to welcome you as Americans. I deplore the use in political campaigns or in public administration of special appeals and of special interests. I deplore any foreign policy which tends to group together those of foreign blood in groups of their utility."

"When the responsibility for leadership in this fight was placed upon me, I said to myself that we must all unite under the slogan 'America First.' I desire with all my heart to speak for the consumer when I speak of agriculture. We must look our land problems and farming situation squarely in the face and act bravely and wisely and promptly."

"The day of land hunger has come. The day when the share of the American farmer in whatever is left of prosperity has been over-topped by the share taken by our industrial production has come. The day when industry outbids agriculture for labor has come."

"These conditions call for wise action and for the presence of the American farmer in our government offices. They call for extension of the farm loan principle."

"I believe the American people, not only in behalf of the farmer, but in behalf of their own welfare and the pocketbooks of the consumers of America, will encourage, make lawful and stimulate co-operative buying, co-operative distribution and co-operative selling of farm products."

CENSUS

Colorado's Population Growth is Half the Gain Made in Previous Decade.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—With a numerical increase of 140,325 in the last ten years, Colorado showed a growth since 1910 of little more than half that made in the previous ten years. The census bureau's announcement today gave the state a total of 939,376 inhabitants. Colorado's rate of growth was 17.6 per cent, compared with 48.0 per cent in the previous ten years.

Paribart, Minn., 11,089; increase 2,088, or 23.2 per cent.
Troy, N. Y., 72,013; decrease 4,500, or 6.2 per cent.

Denver, Colo., (revised), 256,911; increase 43,310, or 20.2 per cent, previously announced 250,369.

ESCH'S RECORD LAUDED BY SYD ANDERSON

"I introduced the bill giving the interstate commerce commission power to investigate all wrecks resulting in loss of life or property."

"I introduced a bill in 1904 requiring railroads to construct steel passenger cars, to prevent loss of life in collisions, submitted to the railroad commission and did not get a favorable response. They all opposed the measure and said the plan was impracticable. Finally the railroads of their own volition saw the value of steel cars and began installing them. Today the car builders are no longer constructing wooden coaches."

"I introduced the black signal system bill and have kept it before congress all these years. The railroads have voluntarily agreed to install and today 30,000 miles of railroads are safeguarded with this system."

"In the Esch-Cummings bill is a provision giving the interstate commerce commission authority to order railroad companies to install automatic train control or stop devices. My purpose was to prevent the interstate railroad employees from traveling publicly."

History of the Rail Act.
Mr. Esch launched into a discussion of the Esch-Cummings act giving a history of the events leading up to the 28 months of federal control of railroads. Equipment was worked to the limit and is now in a sad state of disrepair. The railroads are now in a position to return the roads to their owners in as good shape as when they were taken over, but failed to make good the pledges of the railroads filed at Washington for under-maintenance of railroads.

"I see literature circulating charging that the railroads have fallen down since March 1, when they were returned to private ownership," said Mr. Esch. "I telegraphed the interstate commerce commission for a tonnage statement since March 1, and learned that tonnage had increased 16.7 per cent over the corresponding five months in 1919."

"If you had had two more years of federal control of railroads the relations between the industry and government would have become so scrambled that federal ownership would have become inevitable."

Esch-Cummings Law
"I want to consider some of the features of the Esch-Cummings law. Did the Government earn the amount it had promised to pay for the use of the roads, under the 28 months of federal control? It is the extent of $872,000,000, which was equal to about a million dollars a day. With this deficit piling up day by day, the president's executive order advised the end of federal control, as soon as possible. So Congress had to enact legislation to provide for such a return. I will not go into the details of the bill. What is in the bill to criticize? Have you read the bill, that is the test? I am willing to listen to your criticism if you have. When you take the view of some one else and make his views yours, I do not weigh your criticism to any large extent. You should form your own judgment as to the bill and what it contains."

"This bill gives the interstate commerce commission power over our service with authority to order any railroad to supply itself with the necessary locomotives and cars to perform its duty to the public. Authority is given to the commission also to regulate the operation of the roads and to keep traffic moving. And yet my opponent would repeal the Esch-Cummings law and take this authority from the commission."

Will Utilize River.
"What else does the bill do? You who are living on the Mississippi river, I never allowed myself to forget that this great river of commerce here in the great Mid-West. Under federal control the President and Secretary of War had control over the river and barges to be used on inland waterways to relieve rail congestion. What was to become of this equipment? Our bill provides for the completion of the contract and the operation of the towns and barges under the Secretary of War, the rules however, to be regulated by the interstate commerce commission. I am confident when these barges line are completed and put in operation, we will have taken the first great step in relieving traffic on this wonderful natural highway, and yet my opponent wants to repeal this law."

Fixes Minimum Rates
"In this same connection we also give the commission authority to fix, not only maximum, but minimum rates. I notice there is some criticism in these circulars about giving the commission authority to fix minimum rates. This is why we did it. In time past, rail carrier paralleling a river would lower its freight rates so much that the boat line could not live, and after the water line ceased to operate, the railroad would raise the rates. In some instances higher than before, so we said we will give the commission authority to fix such minimum rates as will permit the boat line to live, relieve congestion on the railroads, and give us water competition. Was I working in the interests of Wall Street Gamblers when I secured the insertion of that provision?

"Another provision of the bill. We gave the interstate commerce commission the power to regulate stock and bond issues of railroads. Our state commission in Wisconsin has that power. It had not forgotten that our commission had that power, and that in exercising that power it was doing a great work. Since the first day of July this year, no railroad can issue stocks or bonds without first securing the approval of the interstate commerce commission. We had tried in 1912, 1914 and 1916 in the House for several times to pass such a bill, but each time it failed to pass the Senate. The financial panic of the Rock Island, Chicago and Alton, Pere Marquette and other roads would have been impossible had the commission had this power in 1912 or even in 1914. This provision is in the Esch-Cummings bill, and yet my opponents say I am a tool of Wall Street and they would repeal the bill giving the commission this authority. I think you could have been in our commission and heard how the magnates and interests of Wall Street fought our giving this power to the commission but they had to give in to the supreme authority of Congress. We placed it in the law and it is there to stay."

Fixes Physical Valuation.
"I also want to discuss Section 422 of the law. This is the section which gives the most opposition and gives rise to most misunderstanding and to the most misrepresentation. First, it gets the actual physical valuation of the railroads, then it fixes what a reasonable rate of return on that valuation is, and then it creates rates that earn that rate of return. It is doing this with the regulation of the rates charged by our public utilities. It is no new principle."

"I am as to valuation. I hear statements and I see them, that under this bill we are paying a return on eight times the value of the railroads. There is a bill of value of the railroads. The roads aren't to exceed twelve billion dollars. Let us see about that. Prior to 1907 we had no uniform method of keeping railroads by accounts and as a result roads would often charge tolerating expenses what they should have charged to capital account. So in the Hepburn act of 1906, which by the way is practically the Esch-Townsend bill of 1915, a provision was inserted requiring the roads to keep itemized accounts of every dollar put into investment cost, the dollar cost. Since 1907 the accuracy of the figures has been maintained. The roads have been investing five billion dollars in the roads of the United States. Practically all of the great railroad systems, except the Missouri Pacific, have been investing since 1907. Now, if six billion dollars were invested since 1907, there surely was vastly more than that sum invested prior to 1907 when the lines were built."

Patented the Bill.
"In 1912 Senator La Follette introduced in the Senate and I introduced in the House, the physical valuation bill, which the interstate commerce commission was to make a physical valuation of all the railroads of the United States. They have been through seven years and the work will be completed within the course of about a year. Don't you believe that in view of the fact that this physical valuation bill was introduced in 1912, the commission knew what it was doing when it valued the railroads in its recent decision at $8,900,000,000? Who made this valuation? The experts of the interstate commerce commission. Who is on that Commission? Mr. Edgar C. Clark, the chief of the Order of Railway Conductors. A railroad man himself. There isn't a more expert railroad man in the United States than Mr. Clark, now Chairman of that Commission. H. D. Meyer, from Wisconsin, for years the Chairman of our State railroad commission, one of the best men in the country, who was governor. For eight years Mr. Meyer has been on the interstate commerce commission. Both of these men approved the valuation, and are in favor of our section 422, now in dispute."

Fixes Rates of Return.
"We fixed the rate for two years after March 1, 1920, at 5 1/2 per cent on this physical valuation. Six months have already gone. This rate will therefore extend for 18 months. Is 5 1/2 per cent excessive? Does any one say we were over-generous to the railroads in fixing a return of 5 1/2 per cent? What do other industries get? 5 per cent? No, under 5 per cent, and even 10 per cent. We said to the railroads we will allow you 5 1/2 per cent with 1/2 per cent for additions and betterments. I wish to know who so bitterly oppose this bill and those who have claimed that I was a tool of Wall Street could have been in our committee and have seen with what bitterness the great railroad owners opposed our fixing the rate at 5 1/2 per cent. They said we have to pay 7 and 8 per cent for what we borrow. We gave them 5 1/2 per cent for 3 years and after that time the commission is to fix the rate in the same way as the interstate commerce commission fixes the rate of return under the public utilities law enacted at the request of Senator La Follette when governor. By the end of three years physical valuation will have been completed upon which to base the rate of return."

Capitalization Not Basic

"We never made capitalization the basis of the return. You will not find it in the bill. We ignored capitalization. It has been charged that this bill guarantees every road 6 per cent upon capitalization, including eight billion of watered stock. Some roads will earn 1 per cent, some 2 per cent or 3 per cent, some 4 per cent, but the government does not make good to any railroad the difference between what the road does earn and 6 per cent. The government is not out a penny."

On the contrary, the Government stands to gain because of another provision in the bill. We ignore capitalization, which was the tools of Wall Street. We ignore the bill, that any road that earned more than 6 per cent would have to pay half of it to the government. The roads do not stress that measure of the bill. They are rather quiet about it, but it is there and it is there to stay, and we are not going to remove it. Because in the bill we prescribe that the management must be efficient, economical and that the roads cannot waste all their earnings. The roads are not going to get 6 per cent. The railroad magnates said that when they are hard pressed for an argument.

"If you have any doubt, read the law, examine it in all its particulars. In securing the passage of this legislation we were actuated by a sincere desire to do what was in the interests of the great masses of the people and not any special interest."

Mr. Anderson Talks.

Representative Sydney Anderson, of Lancaster, introduced by Mr. Schweizer as one of the staunch, progressive, leading members of Congress, said in the interest of Mr. Esch's candidacy for Congress. "I have known him intimately and have had cordial, friendly relations with him during all the years he has been in the country and my State would be served by sending John Esch back to Congress. He has had a long and distinguished public career. The people back home do not always know of the great work a man does in Congress and John Esch has been a good and busy legislator. He has been too busy studying the problems of the nation. He has been too busy looking after work in committee and on the floor of the House to publish statements of what he is doing."

Hardest Worker of All
"There was a provision in the House bill providing for the continuation of the adjustment boards which were then in operation. The Senate bill contained an anti-strike provision. Largely through Mr. Esch's efforts the anti-strike provision in the Senate bill was eliminated."

No man in public life has worked harder than Mr. Esch in the passage of this legislation. I had a meeting the other night with the Trades and Labor Council of Winona, where we talked this over and I know him as a man, and with reference to myself and with reference to Mr. Esch, that the laboring men of the country cannot expect support for those things that they want, if the reward of earnest, faithful and conscientious service is to be defeated in the end. Mr. Esch isn't deriving that sort of treatment. If the workers of the country and railroad workers have ever had a friend in Congress, John Esch is that man. He has more devotion to the interests of the railroad men to his credit than any other man in Congress."

Poor Reward for Efficiency
"It would be a poor reward indeed, for one who has been so faithful in the interest of the workers, if they, at this time when he is in a position to be of most value, should be sent him back to Congress. No man has a right with respect to any political question or any economic question to vote entirely from the standpoint of his personal interest. The best good of each of us is the best good of all of us. As I have observed John Esch's work in Congress, as I know him as a man, as I know his ability and character, as I know his standing in Congress, as I know the affection in which his colleagues hold him, I believe the best interest of my country and my state, and of this district and state will be best served by sending him back to the House."

CHINESE GENERAL URGES DEATH FOR MUTINOUS TROOPS

PEKING, Aug. 31.—Death for all of the 1,500 troops who participated in the recent mutiny at Tingchow is favored by General Chang Tso-Ling, inspector-general. He told the Associated Press correspondent he was restrained from carrying this punishment into effect only by a disagreement with his president who, he said, favored shooting all the ringleaders.

PROMINENT PHYSICIANS WILL MAKE EXAMINATIONS IN THE CHEST CLINIC HERE

Prominent Wisconsin physicians of wide experience in the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis will make the medical examinations at the chest clinic to be conducted in the Court House on September 10th and 11th. The examiners will include Dr. Oscar Lotz, medical director of the clinic activities of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and president of the state board of medical examiners. During the first medical advisory board for the reexamination of conscripted men held by various Milwaukee draft boards on the suspicion of tuberculosis.

Through the cooperation of the University of Wisconsin, the clinic directors have secured the assistance of Dr. J. S. Evans, Professor of clinical medicine at the University of Wisconsin. Dr. A. A. Pleyte of the Medical Staff of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association will also be among the examiners.

Dr. Pleyte has had wide experience in chest work. He was associate medical director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Wailes for four years. During the war he spent a year in active chest work at General Hospital 19, Green, N. C., the largest Government hospital for tuberculosis in the country, where he worked with Dr. Henry Keaton Dunham, noted X-Ray expert in diseases of the chest. Of particular interest is the fact that Dr. Dunham, who is to be one of the chief speakers before the State Medical Society Meeting, is expected to visit the clinic.

Dr. Arthur J. Patck, another of the clinic examiners, was appointed for special tuberculosis work during the war. He is a former President of the State Medical Society. Dr. Lawrence G. Sykes of the clinic staff also had notable tuberculosis experience in the army. Associated with these men on the staff will be: Dr. J. J. McGovern, brother of the former Governor of Wisconsin; Dr. T. J. Harrington and Dr. A. B. Schwartz, all of Milwaukee.

The clinic is made possible through the cooperation of the La Crosse Chapter of the American Red Cross with the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association. Examinations will begin at nine o'clock on Friday, September 10th and will continue through Saturday.

Fairness Fowler's Creed!

FRANK H. FOWLER—you all know him; maybe you went to school to him—is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Member of the Assembly from the First La Crosse District at the Primary, September 7th.

Frank Fowler has the capacity, the broad experience, the vision, the sympathy, the understanding and the balance that will make him an able and desirable representative of your district.

He believes that our form of government is good; that under it we can and will make the sort of constructive progress that will bring every-one greater opportunities, that will mean more happiness in every home.

He believes tax burdens should be equalized and distributed among all citizens in accordance with their ability to bear them without hardship.

He believes laws should be considered and enacted with the sole view of improving the condition and contentment of all citizens.

He believes happier times are ahead; that they will come about through co-operation in all walks of life, and that they will be hastened by the enactment of constructive, far-seeing legislation.

He has spent most of his life in school work and knows the problems and needs of our schools. All progress depends finally on education and it is time for us to send to the legislature a man who can and will look out for the interests of our children.

He is not bound by promise or prejudice to either capital or labor, he represents no class or clique or faction. Fairness to all citizens is his aim and his platform.

He believes in the right of Labor to organize and to bargain collectively, and in the basic 8-hour day with one day of rest in seven.

He believes that strikes and collective bargaining, while justifiable under past and present conditions, are only instruments of temporary relief; that the permanent solution of industrial unrest lies in friendly co-operation in which the worker shall have a pecuniary interest—a profit-sharing share—in the work that he does.

If you want a man to represent you in the Assembly whose votes will be dictated by clean motives, a clear conscience and fair mind,

Vote for Fowler!

DODGEVILLE SOLDIER SCORES ACTION OF JANESVILLE LEGION

Denounces Resolution Attacking La Follette's Record as Self-Incriminating and Tyrannical

DODGEVILLE, Wis., Sept. 3.—Charging that the resolution by the Janesville legion declaring in favor of not marching in a Labor day celebration in which John H. Blaine was to be the principal speaker, is an action of "Self-incrimination and tyranny," on the part of the Post, was the declaration of Harold Hanson, a member of the William Calmus post of the American legion, in an address here this afternoon. M. R. Olbrich, deputy attorney general of the state, spoke from the same platform in favor of the progressive ticket.

Mr. Hanson devoted most of his address to the attacks made by the Janesville Post and other organizations upon Senator La Follette. He said he did not speak officially for the legion nor under the instructions of the legion. He deplored the fact that the legion might be used to attack the character of any political candidate without sincere and honest examinations of his record.

Appearance-

Whether newly-installed or in service for years, our bathroom equipment always presents a spotlessly clean and snow white APPEARANCE.

We have kept abreast of the most advanced ideas of sanitation. That is why we recommend the Thomas Maddock line of plumbing fixtures.

They are not only easy to clean even after years of service, but their structural features are such that it is difficult for dirt to find a lodging place in them and therefore they stay clean for a long time.

And the glistening, snow white, almost unbreakable vitreous china of which these fixtures are made will neither chip, crack nor craze.

Our display of this equipment is now ready for inspection. Come in today and let us show how you can equip your bathroom with fixtures of such quality.

LA CROSSE
 "Jes' Call Me Jim" starring Will Rogers is the story of a man who loves a woman and believes her in love with another. The only thing he desires is to see her happy and to accomplish this he risks his life in an attempt to save her. A poor and innocent man, Paul Roodick, a poor and innocent man, is confined in the workhouse by a doctor named Belcher and his accomplice, Ruffum, the superintendent of the workhouse. Paul to escape Jim not only gives up his rights but also a former and regain the rights and fortune derived from his own invention. What is Jim's surprise when he finds that it is he and not Paul who has the pretty millionaire lover. The story has everything in it to make a wonderful picture, humor, pathos and heart interest. It is one of the best things that Rogers has ever done. Showing at the La Crosse tonight and tomorrow only.

MAJESTIC
 Enid Bennett makes a winsome and appealing crook in her latest picture "The False Road" that opened at the Majestic yesterday. The role is one of the most novel the star has had in a long time. She is Betty Paul, member of a New York underworld gang. In love with a pickpocket, Roger, who goes to meet him when he is released after two years term at Sing Sing and is amazed to hear him say that he is color straight. Roger loves her and goes to a small town and secures a position in a bank. Roger follows them to New York and by a clever ruse, is able to return to the bank. Moreover, Betty listens to the pleas at last and decides to desert "the false road" and marry him. Miss Bennett has added safe-blowing to her list of accomplishments. She is adept as she proves in the picture. It helps to make her portrayal of the girl crook convincing. Lord Hughes is excellent as the leading villain. Other excellent roles are played by Wayne Hoteler and Lucille Young.

STRAND
 An astounding drama of a woman's dual existence is the theme of "A Sister To Salome" starring Gladys Brockwell. The picture is packed with thrills, surprises, startling effects, mystery and a compelling love interest. It has been made into a lavish production enacted with a splendid supporting cast for Miss Adams, including Jack Holt, Leslie MacLead, and Little Leslie.
 A wonderful photographic representation of a hand to hand battle on the ocean's bed; the thrilling pursuit of a woman on a motorcycle and the treasure hunt in a submarine, are some of the startling dramatic scenes embodied in the action of this wonderful drama. The picture is a comedy entitled "Why Let's" completes the bill.

CASINO
 Monroe Salisbury will be seen in "The Blinding Trail" at the Casino today only. "The Blinding Trail" is a soul-stirring story of the far north, where might is right. This sort of a story gives Mr. Salisbury a wonderful chance to show his versatility. There are a number of human interest scenes throughout the picture and also a number of heavy dramatic scenes, with plenty of thrills and a fight or two.

RIALTO
 Maie Murray in "The Delicious Little Devil" is the attraction at the Rialto today. The story has been reviewed in these columns before. It is rich, rare and steep full of thrills and human interest. "Ambrose, Rapid Rise" a Mack Swain comedy, completes the bill.
 Motor tractors are being used to pull boats out of the sea at lifesaving stations on the Atlantic coast.

ELKS' BAND LEAVES FOR MILWAUKEE AT NOON ON SATURDAY

Large Delegation of Local Lodges, Headed by Band, Going to State Convention

Resplendent in handsome new uniforms and trained to perfection after months of rehearsal, the Elks' band of La Crosse will tomorrow lead a delegation of 75 to 100 members of No. 100 in a trip to Milwaukee to attend the state convention.

The delegation is due to leave on the Milwaukee train at 12:20 Saturday afternoon, and will arrive in Milwaukee at 7:15 in the evening.

The La Crosse band will be one of the big features in two parades which will mark the Elks' convention. The band will participate in one parade Sunday morning and in the second event on Monday.

A majority of the band members and Elks making the junket to Milwaukee will return home Tuesday morning in time for election day.

The money required to finance the band's trip to Milwaukee was raised by a special committee consisting of W. F. Hurling, James Hodge and W. H. Burgess.

That La Crosse and the local lodge will get wholesome advertising out of this enterprising stunt is the belief of members of No. 100.

The Elks carnival to be held in Milwaukee, September 4-10, will give a series of seven evening entertainments at the Auditorium, the leading features of which will be two great concerts to be held on the evenings of September 4 and 5.

In these concerts of the Elks Choral club of more than one hundred trained voices will participate, while Madame Rosemary Ross, the gifted wife of David S. Ross, former mayor of Milwaukee, and who stands high in the councils of the Elks, will be the soloist.

She has recently become affiliated with the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music as a member of the faculty and is regarded as one of the great artists of the country.

The vast concert hall, seating more than 8,000 people, will be filled to capacity and the musical features will be greeted by the largest attendance ever assembled in Milwaukee.

ONLY FEW SCATTERING WAGERS HAVE BEEN MADE

Referee Situation Expected to be Cleared up Today

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 3.—Rain will not cause a postponement of the heavyweight championship contest between Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske, St. Paul, Monday afternoon, Promoter Fitzsimmons announced today. The ring and a large part of the open air arena will be covered with a huge canvas if the weather is threatening, and the heavyweight division will go into the ring on schedule time.

The referee situation is expected to be cleared up today with the arrival of Thomas Riggner, chairman of the state athletic commission. Who ever is selected for the third man in the ring, it is apparently certain that Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, will have much to say over the choice. Promoter Fitzsimmons said the advance sale has netted $50,000 and that indications were favorable for a total sale of $150,000. The peak of the sale is not expected to be reported until the morning of the contest when trains and boats dump thousands of fight fans into the city from Chicago and other points.

Promoter Fitzsimmons said that to prevent the $5 general admission seats from falling into the hands of speculators, it has been decided not to place these seats on sale until the morning of the contest.

Only a few scattering wagers have been made. There is plenty of Dempsey money in sight, but the Miske dollars are scarce. One wager of $5,000 at even money that Miske would stay the limit was snatched up quickly. One bet of $10,000 to $8,000 was recorded that Dempsey would win.

George A. Barton, a sporting editor of Minneapolis, who refereed the first fight between Dempsey and Miske, at St. Paul in May, 1918, in an interview today said Miske held Dempsey to a draw in their ten-round encounter.

"Under the boxing law in Minnesota decisions by the referee are not permitted, but I unofficially called the contest a draw," said Barton.

"Those who gave the fight to Dempsey based their decision on the seventh round in which Jack hit Billy on the chin with a terrific right uppercut."

RUTH'S AILING WING IMPROVES

Babe Expects to be Back in Lineup in a Few Days

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Babe Ruth's sore hand was still some sore Thursday, but the doctor told him it would be all right in a few days now. The wing is much better and Babe no longer lugs it in a sling.

It is a strange fact that Babe regards to make more money if the Yankees do not play in a world's series than if they should. He has received large offers to go barnstorming with a troop of other big leaguers after the close of the league season.

Babe has turned down all offers temporarily, however, and probably will not go on tour with any troupe until the world's series is over, no matter who plays it.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 3.—As a preliminary to the $2,000,000 fund raising campaign to be staged by St. Mary's Industrial school this winter, the boys' band of the school will leave the city next Wednesday to accompany Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees on the last swing of that club around the American league circuit. It will appear in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, New York and Philadelphia. Toledo, Louisville and Pittsburgh. Ruth will aid the campaign by making speeches at various points.

MISKE AND DEMPSEY BOXING ARENA MOST NOVEL IN COUNTRY

Workmen Rushing Plans to Enlarge Structure to Seat
20,000 People

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 3.—The arena in which Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, will risk his title against Billy Miske of St. Paul on Labor Day is perhaps the most novel boxing arena in the country. It was used for the first time last July 3 when Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, fought Charlie White of Chicago, and workmen are rushing plans to enlarge the structure so that it will seat approximately 20,000.

Three tiers of seats accommodating 3,000 persons have been added around the entire arena, while bleacher seats will provide for 5,000 more. A quarter section of the arena has been removed and extended back fifty feet and this space will be used for bleacher seats. Prices will range from $5 to $30.

The arena, in a measure, resembles the famous Yale bowl only instead of its seats being built from the level of the land to a height of perhaps thirty feet, its ring and ringside seats are down in the hollow of the ground fifteen feet below the land level. Its highest point, the rear row of the circular arena, is only five feet above the country's level. The arena is built of hard sand, wetted and rolled until it almost baked as hard as concrete. Over this hard sand surface are the rows of seats, no seat being over two feet above the ground. The center of the ring is 115 feet from the last row of seats. The various sections are fenced off with wire netting to prevent the crowd from rushing from the cheaper seats into the ringside locations.

The arena is located on the Eastern outskirts of Benton Harbor and within a block of Dempsey's training camp. The champion is as full of fun as a kitten and he frequently donned a suit of overalls to the surprise of the workmen enlarging the arena and grabbing a spade or a hammer assisted them in their work. But the foreman soon protested as the workers quit to watch the champion go through his stunts.

"This is nothing new for me," Dempsey told the foreman. "I'd been glad many a time to get $2 a day for this kind of work."

DOERFLINGER'S

"Extremely Smart" Describes the New Fall Suits

To mention the smart lines of these tailored modes, is merely to hint at their full beauty. They just seem to fit into the pictured days of Autumn—and like falling leaves, many of them come in brown tones. Here is one of serge, there another of tricotine and duvetyn repeats itself in many of the models. No need to attempt to describe them all—one could not do justice to their originality and the many charming ways in which rich embroidery and fur trimming have been brought into play.

Dashing Autumn Frocks for Every Hour of the Day

There are frocks of wool and frocks of silk. Chemise frocks and frocks that take no coat lines. Frocks with floating panels, others with tunics and surplice bodices—almost no end to the style variation, fabrics and modes of trimming. They are refreshing to see. They show the cleverness and originality of fashion designers. And how refreshing one will appear when clothed in their charming lines.

Little Fellows Can Still Wear Rompers

So long as the days are still warm, rompers are about the most practical clothes for little boys. Even when the air becomes a little crisp they will still be serviceable with proper underwear beneath them. We have an excellent array of styles. Their smart neat appearance and easy-to-laundry quality puts them in the front rank of desirable youngster clothes.
